Animal Remedies Regulations 2007

Prescription Only Medicines may only be prescribed for companion animals by a registered veterinary practitioner and must only be issued to clients whose animals are “under the care” of the veterinary practitioner.

In order to qualify for this we need to have examined your pet sufficiently and recently enough and in any event at least once in a 12 month period to have acquired an accurate picture of the current health and welfare of your pet.

We need to abide by this law but at the same time we want to make your visit to us as cost effective as possible and so we are therefore offering discounted health examinations

Examples of prescription only medicines include wormers, flea treatments and long-term arthritis medications etc.
